DESCRIPTION

In 1950, Jacques Adnet formed a partnership with a famous French fashion house, where he developed a collection of discreet yet voluptuous leather-covered furniture and interior accessories. Known for being an innovative thinker, Adnet was one of the first designers to combine leather with glass. Accordingly, he designed the elegant, distinctive round leather mirror with equestrian inspired detailing - the Adnet Wall Mirror Circular. Besides the remarkable leather and burnished brass details, the mirror in three sizes is also unique as the strap holding the mirror is in direct proportion to the dimension of it. The timeless Adnet Wall Mirror Circular adds a sculptural value to any hallway, bathroom or living room and the three sizes can advantageously be combined to create an outstanding expression.
